Weak Cold Front to Come Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A weak cold front is expected to move across Arkansas Sunday or Monday, accompanied by an increase in cloudiness and showers.
Slightly cooler afternoon temperatures may be expected Sunday and Monday.
High temperatures Thursday
were generally in the 90s with only a few places remaining in the high 80s. Overnight lows were again in the upper 60s
and 70s.
Precipitation continued to be confined to isolated showers.
Pine Bluff received .33 of an inch and showers were noted
in the Little Rock area.

LBJ's Rail
Strike Plan
Rejected

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — A defiant House rejected President Johnson's bid to guarantee settlement of a nationwide rail
strike but a union pledge eased
fears most U.S. trains will halt Monday.
Senate refusal to accept the surprise action — in which the House approved a 90-day nostrike extension but killed Johnson's proposal for a compulsory settlement if negotiations failed —
could block indefinitely passage of legislation.
But the Railway Labor Executive Association, spokesman for 137,000 shopcraft union
workers, pledged not to call a strike if the legislation goes to a House-Senate conference. The union organization's statement
was read on the floor Thursday
by Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., of the House Commerce Committee.
That appeared a temporary lifesaver for congressmen who don't want to be blamed for a strike but don't want to be connected with a compulsory settlement, either.
Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.,
Senate sponsor of the Johnson
measure, called the House action "a legislative mockery"
and said he'd urge Senate conference to reject it. The Senate
earlier had passed the administration bill.
The House action, taken without members having to go on record as to how they voted, was in part a reaction to two days of intensive administration pressure to approve the Senatepassed bill without any changes.

Dierks Bank

DIERKS, Ark. (AP) — The
search continued today for two men who held up a branch of the Horatio State Bank here
Thursday morning and escaped with $22,500.
Flynn Justus, vice president of the Horatio bank and manager at the Dierks branch, said
the men overlook another $15-000 that was in a box in the vault.
One of the men armed with a pistol did all the talking
while the other stood at the bank entrance. They wore handkerchiefs, gloves, long-sleeve
white shirts and big hats.
An employee, Mrs. Wayne Winton, was ordered to get the money and then she and Justus were shoved into the vault. The vault door didn't lock and they were able to get out as soon
as the men left.
Another employee, Mrs. W.C.
Cox, was working in the back of the bank and the men apparently didn't realize she was there. Justus said Mrs. Cox
was aware of what was happening but she stayed put.

Sen. Kennedy
Loses Election

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) —
Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., has lost an election — he failed to win a place on the Board of Overseers at Harvard University.
The results of the mail election among Harvard alumni spread over the world showed him among the losing five of 10
Harvard graduates nominated for the board. The results were announced Thursday at the Harvard commencement.
The late President John F.
Kennedy was a member of the Board of Overseers from 1957 to 1963, but he also failed to win
election on his first nomination.

Dodd said.
The Dodd letter to Johnson
continued: "I wish I could convey to you how enthusiastic everyone is about your visit and how much it will assist me in getting my campaign drive under way."
The ethics committee reported proceeds of "Dodd Day"
events attended by Johnson
amounted to at least $46,745 —
part of $116,083 in political funds
the committee asserts Dodd used
for his personal benefit.
The ethics committee had a copy of the letter but never placed it in evidence because of its source. It treated such documents taken from Dodd's files
without authorization as tainted.
After Dodd acknowledged
writing the letter, Percy said,
"It has been confirmed then."
Dodd did not comment on the quotations read by Percy from the letter.
But the two-term Connecticut
senator rose to his feet shouting
when Chairman John Stennis,
D-Miss., of the ethics panel said
he believed those who bought tickets to Dodd's testimonials
wanted the money used for "the strengthening of the office that he's holding—and certainly that doesn't include repairs to a house or payments to a son,
however fine the son."
"Not one penny of this money
has enriched me," Dodd said
loudly. "The senator says he thinks he knows what the people had in mind— well, I think I know, too."
Dodd previously has confirmed that $9,479.40 of the money was spent on repairs to his home in North Stonington, Conn., and that he transferred $4,900 to his son, Jeremy.

Faubus Buys
Ozark Paper

OZARK, Ark. (AP) — Publisher Isham L. Borrow of the Ozark Spectator announced today
that he had sold the weekly newspaper to former Gov. Orval Faubus and Francis Murray of Huntsville.
The Spectator becomes the fourth newspaper in which Faubus has an interest. It has a circulation of about 2,900.
The Spectator was founded in 1911 by Burrows' parents, Mr.
and Mrs. R. H. Burrow. The son has been published since 1922.
Faubus has owned the Madis-son County Record for 15 years
and Murray edits it for him.
Faubus bought the Advance Reporter at Waldron several years ago, and he obtained an interest in the Pigott Banner earlier this year.
The former governor also has been publisher for several years of the Arkansas Statesman, a newspaper devoted to govern-

Algeria President Is Regrouping Arabs for Revenge Against Israel

By MICHAEL GOLDEMITH
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) —
Algeria's deceptively mild-mannered President Houari Boume-dienne is spearheading moves to regroup the Arab world for revenge against Israel.
Boumedienne has condemned
the Soviet policy of peaceful coexistence and threatened to swing over to Red Chinese views which he rejected just a few months ago.
"There can be no neutrality in the forthcoming struggle," he told his people in a broadcast.
Boumedienne, whose shy
manner conceals a will of steel,
is reported convinced that Israel's war against the Arabs
was part of a British-American plot to reimpose a form of colonialism on the underdeveloped countries.
The Algerian leader emerged
from the Arab disaster with his forces intact and his prestige
untarnished.
He ordered Algerian planes
and troops to the side of the Egyptians, but only a handful of his fighter planes reached
Egypt before the cease-fire.
They saw almost no action, and
from his capital 2,000 miles away Boumedienne definitely rejected the case - fire and called on the Arabs to fight on.
Then Boumedienne was the only Arab leader to fly to Moscow seeking further Soviet support for the Arab cause. Demonstrators in Algiers accused the Kremlin of collusion with the West, echoing Peking's constant line.
In his talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist Party Chief Leonid
I. Brezhnev, Boumedienne reportedly argued that the policy
of peaceful coexistence initiated by Nikita S. Khrushchev was being abused by the "imperial-ists" to defeat all national liberation movements.
Meanwhile, Algeria's government-controlled newspapers and radio demanded the reconquest
of Palestine at no matter what cost—by peaceful means if possible, by force if necessary.
This attitude may have disturbed the Soviet leaders even more than the prospect of Boumedienne switching his alliance from the Russians to the Chinese. The Kremlin has supplied Algeria with $140 million worth of military equipment in the past 18 months and is providing massive political and economic aid which Boumed-ienne could hardly hope to match from Peking.
No communique was issued
after Boumedienne's Moscow visit. Qualified sources said the Soviet leaders promised every possible aid to the Arab cause—
short of approaching the brink
of World War III.
The Russians also seem to have rejected Boumedienne's contention that American and British forces actively contributed to the Israeli victory. Algeria nonetheless broke relations with the United States—
those with Britain were already broken—and closed its ports to all British and American ships.

Young Tampa
Negroes
Are Praised

By AUSTIN SCOTT
TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Young
Negroes in the new, white-helmeted City Youth Patrol praised by the governor and city officials for soothing Negro temper after two nights of rioting, blame the city for the uprisings.
Four leaders of the 150-man
patrol told newsmen the violence was caused primarily by years of official indifference
toward job opportunities and recreation by bigoted police and lack of simple human decency
toward its Negro population.
But despite the criticism, city
officials have begun a move to make the patrol a permanent
arm of the police community relations board.
"I'm sure the mayor and the police chief are going to keep this thing moving — get these guys some uniforms," said
James Hammond, Negro member of the city's biracial commission.
Police decided tension has eased sufficiently to pull the White Helmets off the streets
Thursday night, and a heavy rain that began around dusk
ensured another night of peace.
The young Negroes, whose dark faces were at times almost lost under white riot helmets
meant for beefy patrolmen, did have praise for Sheriff Malcolm Beard, who decided Wednesday
to hold back his riot-trained police and National Guard reinforcements so the teen-agers
could try to police their own people.
Without guns or nightsticks,
dressed in torn dungarees,
shirts and sandals, they roamed
the hot and humid streets of five Negro neighborhoods, convincing potential troublemakers that any more violence would only hurt the community further.
A federal investigator for the Small Business Administration
estimated the cost of two nights
of vandalism at $1.5 million.
Many were the same angry
youths who hurled rocks and bottles during the rioting Sunday and Monday. But the word Wednesday night was, "Cool it,
we don't need more trouble."
"Those boys in white hats did
a marvelous job," said the sheriff. "A lot of those kids were probably throwing rocks Sunday night when we had all the trouble, but we gave them a job to do and they did it."
The patrol was born in 24 hours of discussions among Negro youths and adults Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.
City officials also took part.
Some adults doubted it would work. Many volunteers had police records, some were high school dropouts, most had no jobs, some were married with families before they were out of their teens.
But broken into five 30-man squad with a team captain and two Negro patrolmen to help
each squad, the patrol managed to handle two touch-and-go situations. Only once did Beard seriously consider using his troops.
"I'll give you 30 minutes to break that crowd up," he told patrol leaders as hundreds of Negroes massed in one of the riot areas. He had warned that if he had to use his men he would go in with no holds barred.

Ike Relates Break With MacArthur

NEW YORK (AP) — A "misunderstanding" in the Philippine Islands permanently chilled Dwight D. Eisenhower's feelings of friendship for Gen.
Douglas MacArthur, Eisenhower writes in his latest volume of memoirs.
MacArthur, he indicates,
shifted the blame to his subordinates for a project that "horrified" Philippines President
Manuel Quezon.
Eisenhower relates the incident in his fourth book, "At Ease: Stories I Tell to Friends," published today.
In the late 1930's, Eisenhower
was MacArthur's senior aide in Manila, organizing the Filipino defense forces. As a morale builder, he writes, MacArthur
suggested bringing units of the new army from all parts of the islands for a parade in Manila.
The defense budget was extremely tight and, when Quezon heard of the project, he disapproved it.
Eisenhower writes:
"Now the matter had come to the ears of the president who was horrified to think we were ready for a costly national parade in the capital. Because Gen. MacArthur denied he had given us an order—which was certainly news to us—there was nothing to do except stop the proceedings. This misunderstanding caused considerable resentment—and never again
were we on the same warm and cordial terms."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation
reports the largest three-month
increase in the number of serious crimes since it began publishing quarterly crime figures
in 1958.
FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover
said Thursday the crime rate soared 20 per cent during the January-March period and was distributed evenly among all geographic areas.
Hoover said the increase in robberies ranged from 20 per cent in cities with more than one million population to 42 per cent in cities with 250,000 to 500-000 residents.
The murder rate jumped 23
per cent, forcible rape 8 per cent, robbery 32 per cent and aggravated assault 15 per cent
for a total increase of 21 per cent in crimes of violence, he said.
Hoover, saying he was unable to explain fully the reasons for the sharp increases, urged the full support of government and citizens for law enforcement
machinery.

Says Arkansas
Prison System
Is Sorry

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John
Haley, a member of the state Penitentiary Board, said Thursday that Arkansas had "one of the sorriest prison systems in the country."
Haley's remarks were made to the Legislative Council's Committee on Charitable, Penal and Correctional Institutions,
which met to hear a proposal
by state Rep. Grover Turner of Pine Bluff concerning the ill-fated management contract entered into by the board.
Turner asked for a study of the facts and circumstances surrounding the contracts issued to the Jacob Hartz Seed Co., of Stuttgart for management of the rice and soybean crops. The contracts were ruled illegal by the attorney general's office.
Turner said he believed the public should know who had the overall authority in the state's
prison system.
His remarks were aimed at Thomas O. Murton, assistant superintendent in charge of Tucker Prison Farm. Turner said there had to be a central authority, whether at Tucker or Cummins Prison Farm.
Murton, who has been speaking throughout the area calling for prison reform, has attacked
the idea of using prison labor
to farm various crops while having no rehabilitation program.
Murton has said several times that once a man has picked okra for several years,
he's an expert at it.
"I, for one, don't see anything wrong with people picking okra," Turner said. "I don't think it is a sin to make money
where you have free labor."
Turner also said he did not think Arkansas was the only state with problems in penal institutions. He did not elaborate.
He also said he saw no need to go around the state making speeches about problems in the
prison system.
Let's quit worrying about what the press is saying," Turner said.
Haley, as well as several other board members, told the committee that the board was running Tucker and Cummins.
Haley said that he would personally take the blame for the Hartz contract, and that the board entered into the contract
to cover an emergency situation at Tucker Prison where the land was not prepared for the rice crop as late as February.
Haley said the board did not consult the legislature because
the board felt that it had solved
the immediate problem with the Hartz contract.
Legislation was needed to give
the board authority to enter into such contracts, Haley said.
The committee voted to study
the state laws concerning the penal system to see what revisions might be needed.
The committee also voted to make its own study of the operation, control and management of the four state training schools.

Wynn Hits 3 Homers Astrodome

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim Wynn put one and one and one together and solved the problem of the Houston Astrodome's huge dimensions. His solution surprised everyone, including Wynn.

"I'm going to quit moaning about how big this ballpark is after that exhibition," said veteran slugger Eddie Mathews after watching Wynn become the first player to hit three homers in one game in the Astrodome, with its 340-406-340 dimensions.

It also was the first time Wynn ever hit three homers in a major league game, and they helped Houston to a 6-2 victory over San Francisco Thursday night.

"I knew that eventually it (hitting three homers in one game) would come about," said the 5-foot-9, 168-pound outfielder, "but I didn't expect it to happen there."

Meanwhile, Manager Gene Mauch of Philadelphia had put two and two together and figured he would have to divide the first-game pitching chores in a two-night doubleheader against Pittsburgh. But Dick Hall also came up with a surprising solution.

With scheduled starter Jim Bunning ill with bronchitis, Mauch decided to start Hall, a 36-year-old relief specialist, and then finish with Dick Farrell, but Hall went the distance to beat the Pirates 4-1 in his first start in four years.

Dick Ellsworth failed to last one inning in the nightcap as Steve Blass of Pittsburgh capped a five-run first with a two-run single and then stopped the Phillies 5-2 on seven hits.

In the only other National League game scheduled, Jim Brewer and Don Sutton blanked Chicago on four hits as Los Angeles beat the Cubs 5-0.

In the American League, Minnesota beat Detroit 6-4, the New York Yankees defeated Washington 2-0, and in 11 innings, Kansas City tripped Baltimore 6-5 and Boston edged Chicago 2-1. Cleveland and California were not scheduled.

Wynn's consecutive solo homers in the fifth, sixth and eighth innings gave him 14 for the season and six in his last seven games. The first tied the game 1-1, the second made it 3-2 and the third started a two-run inning that wrapped up the contest for Mike Cuellar, who scattered eight hits for an 8-2 record.

Wynn almost didn't try for the third.

"On the second strike, I was thinking of bunting," he said, "but the ball was inside and it wasn't a good pitch to try to lay down."

"I saw Joe Adcock hit four in Ebbetts Field, and I hit three there," Mathews said, "but I'd say this overshadowed either of those, coming in this big park."

Hall, whose longest previous stint this season was six innings, was not told he was going to start until minutes before game time. "And I was a little nervous about it," he said, "it was a long time ago that I had started a game."

Asked if he would like to start regularly, he said "I'll have to see how the arm feels later."

Rick Allen drove in three runs with a single and a homer and Gene Oliver homered for the runs Hall needed.

The Pirates unloaded five hits, including two-run singles by Donn Clendenen and Blass, in their big inning. The Phils got to Blass only in the third when Gary Sutherland tripled and scored on an infield out and in the fifth when Clay Delrymple homered.

Brewer, another pitcher normally found in the bullpen, allowed three hits in five innings before an elbow injury sidelined him and Sutton finished the shutout against Chicago.

Brewer also doubled in a run in the fourth inning off loser Ferguson Jenkins for his first hit in three years.

Green Ties World Mark in the 100

By LARRY KURTZ
PROVO, Utah (AP) — Charlie Greene tied the world 100-yard dash record and refused to talk about it. Gerry Lindgren humiliated his opposition in the six-mile run and scoffed at the altitude factor.

Those were among surprises Thursday night in the opening round of the 46th annual NCAA Track and Field Championships at Brigham Young University.

Another surprise was the decision of two world record-holders not to try for double victories.

Jim Ryun of Kansas, the world mile champion, easily won a qualifying heat and then bypassed the half-mile — an event in which he also has the fastest time on record, Tommie Smith, the 220 and 440 record-holder, decided to run only in the 220. He also had been entered also in the 100 and 440 but said he did not want to risk an injury.

All of the favorites came through the qualifying in fine form, but some darkhorses also turned up. One was Lennox Miller, a Southern California sophomore who ran the 100 in 9.2 seconds and the 220 in 20.5. Miller's fine 100 heat came just minutes before Greene, wearing prescription sunglasses at night, joined Bob Hayes, Harry Jerome and Jim Hines as the only men to clock 9.1.

Greene refused to talk after the race. A Nebraska teammate, quarter-mile Clifton Forbes, said Greene just didn't feel like talking.

"It's a personal thing," Forbes said. He would not elaborate, but he said it appeared to him that Greene stumbled slightly coming out of the blocks. Forbes said he was standing behind Greene when the race started.

Greene might have been solemn, but Lindgren was jovial after running away from the field in 28:44.0 in the six-mile, the night's only final. Although the time was some 37 seconds slower than his winning effort in last year's NCAA meet, Lindgren said the 4,500-foot altitude was no factor.

"The conditions are excellent," the little runner said, "The altitude had no effect." Lindgren comes back Saturday night to defend the three-mile title, which he also won last year.

Ryun also said he was not bothered by the altitude.

"It hasn't had any effect on me yet," he said, "But I don't really know because I haven't pushed myself."

A Few Deals Before the Deadline

Relief pitcher Claude Raymond can change to his traveling uniform tonight without leaving town.

Raymond was traded by the Houston Astros to the Atlanta Braves for pitcher Wade Blasingame just before Thursday midnight's trading deadline.

It might not take Raymond long to get a chance to pitch against his former teammates as the Braves open a three-game series in Houston tonight.

There were three other deals made before the deadline.

In one Jim King jumped from the last-place Washington Senators to the Chicago White Sox, the American League leaders. The White Sox exchanged outfielder Ed Stroud for King, who was the last of the original expansion Senators.

The California Angels were involved in the other two transactions. They obtained outfielder Woody Held from Baltimore for southpaw pitcher Marcelino Lopez, and outfielder Roger Repulski from Kansas City for pitcher Jack Sanford and an unnamed Triple A player.

Raymond, a 30-year-old native of St. Jean, Que., Canada, has failed to win this season and has four defeats. He posted a 7-5 record with the Astros in 1966.

Robinson Alive But Orioles Drag

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Big Frank Robinson is seeking to stir up a hornet's nest, but the slumping Baltimore Orioles are still winging their way in the direction of the American League's second division.

The pesky Kansas City A's buzzed around the bases like bees in the eighth inning Thursday night, scoring five times to overcome a 5-0 deficit and then beat the Orioles 6-5 in the 11th on Reggie Jackson's single.

The setback dropped the American League champs two places to fifth. They are only one game ahead of Kansas City, Cleveland and the New York Yankees, who are deadlocked for the No. 6 spot.

In other AL games, Boston edged the leading Chicago White Sox 2-1 in 11 innings, the Yanks blanked Washington 2-0 and Minnesota defeated Detroit, 6-4. California and Cleveland were not scheduled.

In the National League, Los Angeles whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-0, Houston downed San Francisco 6-2 while Philadelphia split a doubleheader with Pittsburgh. The Phils won the opener 4-1 and the Pirates the nightcap, 5-2. The other NL clubs had an open date.

Robinson, the Orioles' star outfielder and last year's triple crown winner, said before the game with the A's, "This is too damned good a baseball club to be down where we are. If I stir up a hornet's nest maybe it's a good thing. Maybe they'll get stirred up enough that we'll get up there where we belong."

Earlier in the day the slugger had been quoted as saying there was some jealousy on the team. However, Manager Hank Bauer explained, "I think Frank used a poor choice of words. I think the right word is envious. Last year we always had two men in the line-up who were hitting the ball real good. This year we haven't."

For a while, the Orioles were hitting the ball real good Thursday night. They jumped on the A's Jim Nash for five runs in six innings, one on Boog Powell's sixth homer. Dave Johnson, Andy Etchebarren and Brooks Robinson each doubled in runs, and Etchebarren's sacrifice fly brought in another.

Then Kansas City went to work on Baltimore starter Tom Phoebus in the eighth, tying the score on five hits and an error.

John Donaldson opened the 11th with a triple and after a hit batsman and an intentional walk, Jackson's single scored Donaldson.

Tony Conigliaro, Mickey Mantle and Harmon Killebrew were the circuit's other batting stars. Conigliaro's two-run homer with two out in the 11th enabled the Red Sox to down the White Sox. Chicago had taken a 1-0 lead in their half of the 11th on Walt Williams' double and Ken Berry's single. Manager Eddie Stanky and catcher Smokey Burgess were ejected from the game after disputing a called third strike in the 10th inning.

Mantle broke a scoreless duel with a sixth inning homer and set up another run with a double for the Yankees. The home run was Mantle's 13th of the season and 509th of his career. Mel Stottlemyre limited Washington to five hits in evening his record at 6-6. Frank Bertina was the loser.

Killebrew's 17th home run with a mate aboard ignited a four-run rally in the seventh inning for the Twins. The blast erased a 3-2 Detroit lead. Minnesota's Zoila Versalles collected his 1,000th major league hit with a sixth inning single.

Saldivar Raps Briton, Keeps World Title

By BOB WAITS
CARDIFF, Wales (AP) — Vicente Saldivar of Mexico began a European holiday today, his world featherweight boxing title still intact after a blazing defense Thursday night.

Saldivar, 24, blasted Britain's Howard Winstone into a 15-round points defeat before a crowd of 30,000 Welshmen in Cardiff's open-air Nialan Park Stadium.

English referee Wally Thom scored it 73-71 points for Saldivar and 73-71 points to Winstone—a two-round margin on the British Scoring system.

But Saldivar, a pocket version of Rocky Marciano, punished the skillful 28-year-old Welshman so effectively in the closing rounds that the narrow points margin did not reflect the Mexican's final superiority.

Clay Unafraid of Being Idle for Years

By BILL HALLS
DETROIT (AP) — Cassius Clay, two boxing exhibitions behind him and a court fight facing him, sprawled on a bench in Detroit's Cobo Arena Thursday night, watched his seconds pack up his gear and contemplated his future in the ring.

"Sitting down a year, two years ... even three years won't hurt me," said the de-throned heavyweight champion who faces trial in U.S. District Court at Houston Monday because of his refusal to enter the Army. He has been stripped of his title by many of boxing's governing bodies.

"Three years," he said again, contemplating a jail term. "If I leave the scene three years, I'll come back."

"I'll be 28 years old in three years. Lots of boxers have won the championship when they were older."

Clay, 25, who prefers to be known by his Black Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, had just breezed through a pair of three-round exhibitions with a pair of young heavyweights.

He had little trouble in the first, a match against plodding, 235-pound Orville Qualle of Chicago, but Alvin "Blue" Lewis, a cocky, 24-year-old hopeful from Detroit made a good show at trying to upstage Clay in the second bout.

Lewis entered the ring with his hands in the air and gave a long, shrill whistle to the delight of a sparse, but enthusiastic turnout of 3,623 fans.

"I think he's the greatest, just like he says," said Lewis, who is 11-0 as a pro, mostly in six rounds. "I learned a lot."

Clay, trim at a listed 219 1/2 pounds, showed flashes of his lightning speed on occasion but remained relaxed throughout the six rounds, seldom extending himself.

"But there were a few good licks in there," said Clay, who argues his status as a Black Muslim minister should exempt him from military service.

Earlier this week, the U.S. Supreme Court denied Clay's request to halt government prosecution for defiance of the Selective Service Act until his draft status is settled.

Clay said he had no special plans before the trial.

"I'm heading for Chicago," he said. "Chicago, Miami, then Houston. Man, I'm a road runner."

Sox to Build $50 Million Sports Complex

CHICAGO (AP) — A $50-million sports complex a step from Chicago's Loop is being planned with a target date of 1971 or 1972 by the Chicago White Sox.

Privately financed, it would be on 50 acres of air rights land now occupied by the Dearborn Street railroad station just south of the city's center.

Announcement was made Thursday by Arthur C. Allyn, president of the Comisky Park Corp., that his group and the Western Indiana Railroad Co. have formed agreement for the development.

It will consist of a baseball park with seating capacity of about 46,000, an enclosed arena for basketball and hockey with 15,000 seats, and a football and soccer stadium with about 60,000 accommodation.

Allyn said he hopes the Chicago Cubs, Chicago Bears and Chicago Bulls — baseball, football and basketball — would utilize the facilities but if not, the complex would be built anyway.

Allyn also hopes the Chicago Black Hawks, long based at Chicago Stadium, built in 1929, would study the proposed facilities.

Adios Vic Breezes to Victory

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Adios Vic, winner of last week's $50,000 Good Time Pace, came right back to breeze to a four-length victory over Pocomoonshine in Thursday night's $50,000 National Championship Pace before 18,091 at Yonkers Raceway. Time for the 1 1/2 miles over a sloppy track was 3:08 3-5.

The 6-year-old son of Adios, driven by Jim Dennis, began his bid just before the mile and a quarter and took the lead from pacesetter Orbiter N. Entering the far turn, after opening up an eight-length lead turning for home, Dennis eased up Adios Vic with 30 yards to go.

Owned by Victor and Morris Zeinfeld of Maywood, Ill., the swift son of Adios returned $7.60, 4.60 and 2.60. Pocomoonshine, a 30-1 outsider, paid $13.00 and 3.00 for finishing second while Cardigan Bay, the 4-5 favorite, returned $2.20 for show.

The win, his fourth in seven starts, upped Adios Vic's seasonal earnings to $87,000 and lifetime to $388,591. Cardigan Bay, second on the all-time money earning list behind Bret Hanover's $922,616, raised his career earnings to $901,171.

Amateur in Lead, Arnie in Pursuit

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who had said an amateur couldn't win the U.S. Open, set out in pursuit of one today with two strokes to make up and very, very little to say about the non-professionals.

"I had a lot of luck," amateur Marty Fleckman shyly commented Thursday after he had started an elite field with a three-under-par 67 and a two-stroke lead in the United States Open Golf Championship.

Palmer, the golfing millionaire from Latrobe, Pa., and six more established stars of the game were tightly packed into a compact group at 69.

They included Gary Player, the little South African who won the title in 1965; flamboyant Chi Chi Rodriguez; Art Wall; Don January; defending champion Billy Casper and rookie pro Deane Beman.

One more stroke back after the rain-interrupted first round, and even with par at 70 for the 7,015-yard Baltusrol course, were former British open champion Kel Nagle of Australia, 1965 PGA champ Dave Marr, ageless Dutch Harrison, Gardner Dickinson and George Archer.

Jack Nicklaus, who had stormed over the lush course in record 62 in his last practice round, had just posted his 71 when the torrential downpour—accompanied by thunder and lightning—sent the gallery of 15,787 and a handful of golfers scurrying for cover.

Among the latter was Ben Hogan, 55-year-old winner of three U.S. Open titles, who had just finished the 623 yard 17th—longest hole in Open history—and was one-over par.

After play was resumed 31 minutes later, he took a bogey six on the final hole and finished with a 72.

Fleckman, who learned his golfing lessons at the knee of the great Byron Nelson, was practically unknown among the field of 135 pros and 15 amateurs, and certainly wasn't in Palmer's mind two days ago.

Palmer, the 6-1 favorite going into the tourney, said the field was so good and the course in such fine shape that "any number of players could win it—maybe as many as 50."

"No, I don't think so," Arnie answered. "That's taking it too far. No, not an amateur."

The odds are still against it. An amateur has not won the Open since 1933, when Johnny Goodman took it, and he's the only one to do it since the immortal Bobby Jones. And an amateur has not even led since 1954, when Billy Joe Patton took the first-round lead over this same course.

Did this sort of history bother Fleckman?

"Gee, no," he said, a surprised look crossing his darkly handsome face. "I hadn't ever thought about it."

Fleckman, 23, is a native of Port Arthur, Tex., where he works in his father's lumber business. He's a recent graduate of the University of Houston where he won the NCAA championship, and started taking lessons from Nelson two years ago.

He was the first alternate to the U.S. Walker Cup squad and gained his spot on the team only when Beman turned pro a couple of months ago.

Frank Beard, one of the pre-tourney favorites, took a 73, while Julius Boros, a two-time Open champ and winner of three tourneys this year, finished with a 75 after taking a triple bogey seven on No. 5.

Hurdler Is Hurt in Fall

PROVO, Utah (AP) — University of Washington hurdler Bill Roe suffered serious injuries Thursday night when he fell while attempting to qualify in the NCAA Track and Field Championships.

Roe, who fell on the second hurdle, suffered two broken bones in his lower left leg. He also received a shoulder dislocation. Roe was hospitalized in such fine shape that "any number of players could win it—maybe as many as 50."

"No, I don't think so," Arnie answered. "That's taking it too far. No, not an amateur."

History of Hope

Chapter 8 The Churches

What was known as the Silom Baptist church, was moved to Hope, in 1876 and became the Hope Baptist church.

The first location was on the corner of North Walnut and East avenue A, on Lot No. 7, in Block No. 14. James M. Loughborough, at that time Attorney-in-fact and Trustee for the Cairo and Fulton Railway Company, had transferred the lands belonging to the company of Allen & Marquand, a real estate firm, Thos. Allen, being the president of the railroad company. Among said lands was all of block 14. A deed of gift was made by Thos. Allen and A. R. Allen, his wife, and Henry G. Marquand, Elizabeth L. Marquand, his wife, to J. R. Giles, C. T. Short, J. B. Powell and J. M. Awbury, trustees of the Hope Baptist church and their successors in the deed reverting to the property if it ceased to be used for church purposes. This deed was dated the 13th, day of December, 1877. The church building erected on said lot continued to be used until November 14, 1888, when it was sold to Benj. Beard. It is still standing and is now occupied by Mr. Van Ware as a dwelling. The writer attended many services there during the first pastor's incumbency, which continued till about the year 1884.

In the year 1884 the congregation determined to move to the south side of the railroad, and secured a location on the corner of South Main and East Third avenue. They bought from John H. Davis and wife E. Jane Davis, the west half of lots No. 1 and 2, in block No. 45, where the present building now stands. In the year 1888 they bought the east half of said two lots from Benj. Beard and wife Sallie P. Beard. The first deed was dated January 22nd, 1884 and the second deed was dated May 9th, 1888. On the west half of these lots a nice frame building was built, sufficiently large enough to accommodate the congregation at that time. On the northeast corner of lot No. 1, was a small dwelling, which, for a few years, was used as a manse. This manse building one of the early houses of Hope, was sold to Mr. Yeager recently and the material used in building elsewhere in Hope. The frame church building was sold to the negroes some years ago, and by them rolled to the west end of town to the place best known by the name "The Ravine." Needing another location for a manse, lots No. 144 and 15, in block No. 43, on South Elm street, were bought, August 27, 1895 from Partie McGroarty and wife Mary F. McGroarty, which was used as a manse for several years. The trustees who bought the west half of lots 1 and 2, block No. 45 were J. R. Giles, C. T. Short, S. W. White and J. B. Powell and those who bought the east half of said lots were J. H. Wood, C. T. White and S. W. White.

which time Dr. Searcy came back again, but remained one year only. Rev. J. P. Henry was then pastor for two years and was followed by Rev. Swafford. He had two fine daughters, who were noted musicians and they entertained the church frequently with duets and solos. Rev. T. P. Langley was the next pastor for two years and was succeeded by Rev. W. A. Freeman, who remained two years. Rev. W. T. Dorris was the next minister, followed by Rev. A. H. Autry. During his incumbency of four years and back to the time of Dr. Searcy's first pastorate, Capt. J. H. Black was the superintendent of the Sabbath school. The minister who followed Rev. Autry was Rev. W. M. Bostick, who remained for two years. During his ministry, J. D. Cotton was superintendent of the Sabbath school until the time of his death. Rev. T. D. Brown, D. D., was the next and is the present pastor, and if the writer may just here express his own opinion, he regards Dr. Brown as one of the ablest men the church has ever had.

Chapter 9 The Churches

The Methodist church of Hope, was organized during the year 1874. James M. Loughborough, Attorney in Fact and Trustee for the Cairo and Fulton Railroad Company donated to the church Lot No. 7, in Block No. 23, and the deed was dated April 10, 1874 and was made without reservation to the trustees of the church, C. H. Bayless, R. L. Henron, J. L. Ware, Judge J. F. Lowry and J. G. Fair.

Rev. C. O. Steele, who was the first pastor, at the time of the organization of the church bought from the Cairo and Fulton Railway Company, Lot No. 9, in Block No. 23, next to the church, for a home, at the price of $125.00 and the building erected thereon was used as a parsonage during his stay with the church and then sold to M. C. Boyes, October 27, 1884 and by him to A. L. Johnson, April 2, 1888.

At the time of the above transaction Capt. Thos. H. Simms, a member of the Methodist church at Washington, was the clerk of Hempstead county and recorded these deeds. During his time in office Calvin M. Hervey, Judge A. H. Carrigan and W. R. Bell were county judges and Arthur A. Gibson and J. M. Hanagan filled the accessors office.

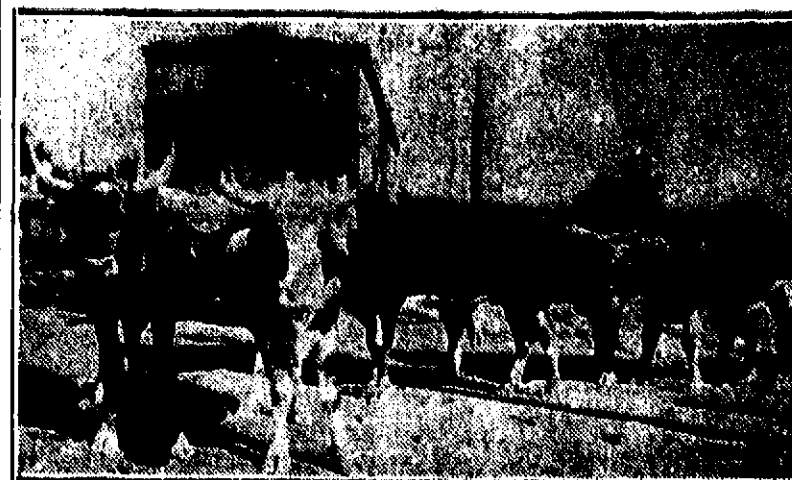

During the year 1897 we had one of the hottest times in the history of Hope, fighting the whiskey traffic and during this time the building of the Methodist church was burned. About the same time the Presbyterian church building and Pastor's house were burned and the Episcopal and Baptist buildings were set on fire, but did not do much damage, as the fires were put out. It was the opinion at that time that the liquor people were doing this kind of work to revenge themselves against the fight of the temperance forces. After the fire a new site was bought, Lot No. 5 was bought from John M. Pittman November 11, 1895. Lots No. 3 and 4 were bought from Mrs. Addie Kendall, Charles Edlie and Richard Kendall, October 8,

The church was organized by Rev. C. O. Steele in the summer of the year 1874. He was the first pastor and served this church for four years after organization. Dr. S. H. Bayless and wife, R. L. Hearon and wife, J. L. Ware and wife, J. P. Lowry and wife, Jas. G. The first part of this chapter was obtained mostly from records in the office of J. H. Arnold. I had to rely on my own and the memory of several present members of the Baptist church for the second half hereof. If I have made any mistake, it is due to the fact that I was unable to get in touch with the written records of the church.

In writing not this record only, but of the other churches so far, the memory is wonderfully revived and thinking back, I have been impressed with one outstanding fact, and that is in the early days of Hope the attend-

1895 and lots No. 6 and 7 were bought from Steve and Nora Carrigan, May 27, 1905. All of these lots are in Block 29, and the church building, the Sunday school room and the parsonage, were built on them. At the time of the first two transactions George Sandefur was the circuit clerk, and at the time of the last, J. S. Monroe was the clerk who recorded these deeds.

The trustees of the church during these transactions were Steve Carrigan, W. H. Robinson, L. J. Gillespie, James W. Stephenson, John P. Owens, Jas. H. McCollum and R. H. Ehrldge in the first two purchases, and in the next the trustees were: Jas. H. McCollum and R. H. Ehrldge, O. A. Graves, W. H. Robinson, L. J. Gillespie, J. H. Weaver, Steve Carrigan, W. W. Andrews, Mrs. M. L. Crosset, R. F. Hardcastle and wife, em branch of the Methodist church. Among the early couples who were united by marriage during his pastorate was A. L. Johnson and Miss Mollie Barton. Rev. H. H. Watson was the next minister and he served for the years 1881 and 1882. He was a young, vigorous man and a good preacher and did good work in Hope. One of the noted preachers in the history of this church was the next, Dr. H. R. Withers. He served for the year 1883 and 1884. Before entering the ministry, he was a lawyer, a splendid scholar, a distinguished orator, and old time gentleman with the physical defect of being very deaf. After him came Rev. J. C. Stone, who served the church during the year 1885. He was followed by the Rev. L. B. Hawley, for the years 1886 and 1887 and 1888 and he was succeeded by Rev. H. W. Brooks, for the years 1889, 1890 and 1891. Many of our people will remember these two preachers as earnest workers in the Lord's vineyard and beloved by their members.

Rev. J. M. Laughlin served for the year 1892. Rev. J. M. Pinnell 1893. Rev. W. C. Rhodes 1896 and T. O. Rorie 1897. All of these were working to the best of their abilities. J. M. Pinnell was a personal friend and we had worked together through many sessions of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Arkansas.

Rev. J. R. Sanders was then sent to this church and his members loved him to the extent of keeping him the limit, four years: 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901. Rev. W. C. Watson was the next appointment. He is a nephew of Mrs. W. Y. Foster. I lived for years just across the street from his father in Magnolia and saw him grow. He served the church for the years 1902 and 1903. He is now the financial agent for one of the Methodist colleges and has made good. Then followed a man we all love Rev. T. D. Scott, for the years 1904, 1905, 1906 and 1907. Mr. Wilson and family lived in Hope, where R. O. Bricewell now lives and Bro. Scott found his wife in that family. When the family came back recently Mrs. Scott said to me that she had come home and she was very glad to get back. Rev. W. P. Whaley followed for the years 1908, 1909 and 1910. He was a good preacher and a fine worker with me in the temperance cause. Rev. J. W. Harrell served the church for the years 1911 and 1912 and was followed by Rev. S. R. Twitty for the year 1913. Some people say that "13" is an unlucky number. Maybe it is but—Well Rev. T. O. Owens came next and did splendid service during the years 1914 and 1915. And now here is Bro. Scott again and if his members think as much of him as I do he will stay the limit again.

Some of the Bishops who were here during this history follows: E. E. Hoss, Joseph S. Key, C. B. Galloway, James Atkins, Seth Ward, E. R. Hendrix, C. H. McKay and W. A. Chandler; and Presiding Elder: Thos. H. Ware, J. H. Dye, W. R. Harrison, Thos. H. Ware, W. C. Hillard, Geo. M. Hill, and W. M. Hays.

Dwight Blake, secretary. Mrs. T. R. Billingsley, treasurer. Mrs. J. D. McMath, agent of Voice. Mrs. E. L. Russell, corresponding secretary. The Woman's Missionary Society is divided into four circles: Ellen Haynes, Mrs. D. B. Thompson, president; Mrs. Steve Carrigan Sr., secretary and treasurer; Mable Head Circle, Mrs. Roscoe Wilk, president; and Lou Hochkins Circle, Mrs. J. H. Arnold, president.

There are many other societies in the church and Sabbath school, taking in, as one of the lady members expressed to me, the men, women and children, from the cradle to the grave. Unique among these are the home department, the cradle roll, the Epworth league and Mrs. J. H. Arnold's class of young married and single men's Bible students. Ordinarily one would expect a man at the helm and it is a compliment to Mrs. Arnold as a Bible student. There are forty members in the class.

The superintendents of the Sabbath school during this history so far as have been able to trace them with the records are as follows: R. Walkup, the present one. Back of him O. A. Graves efficiently and faithfully served for twelve years. J. H. Arnold back of him, James H. McCollum for some six years. Then John Phillips for how long this document sayeth not.

The church membership at the present time is about four hundred and the last report gave the number of scholars in Sunday school as three hundred and eighty one.

I am a Presbyterian, as blue as the vault above us, yet I have the grave to give need to the Methodist church for its work in the Lord's cause. In the town and cities; in the villages and farm settlements; in the sparsely settled country districts, as well as in the wilderness, the workers are found. The Iron Horse has never pushed his nose into the wilderness or through the sands of the desert too fast for the circuit rider. Whenever and wherever the civil engineer set his instrument to locate a new station there he found this tireless worker with horse, saddle-bags and Bible, ready to preach to all comers. Many a thrilling chapter in history and novel, has been written of these sky pilots, and many of the splendid songs in our church books of today emanated from their hearts and brains.

This church is surely one of the fruitful branches of the vine which Christ planted, whose shoots now cover the earth as far as the waters cover the deep.

Chapter 10

Biography

Capt. B. F. Forney became a citizen of Hope in the year 1885. Just before coming to Hope, he was one of the most extensive merchants in Ultima Thule, Sevier county, Arkansas. He was born in Tennessee in 1834, and received his education in the common schools of Maury county, supplementing the same by several terms at McKendree College, Texas. While attending said college, the war broke out between Texas and Mexico and Capt. Forney joined the Texas army, and engaged in the war with Mexico. He was mustered in at Austin and served as a private in Capt. Smith's company for four months, and mustered out then at Austin. After this he studied law, and was licensed to practice in the circuit court, at Paris, Texas, in 1858, and in the supreme court of Arkansas, in 1865. He came to Arkansas in 1862 locating in Sevier county and practiced his profession at Paraclytus until the county site was removed to Lockesburg, when he removed to that place and continued his law practice until 1883. He then went to Ultima Thule and engaged in the mercantile business until he came to Hope.

He was married in 1860 to Miss Catherine A. De P. Greene, a native of Arkansas, born in 1843. Her father was from New York city and her mother, whose maiden name was Nancy Holman, was from Missouri. Mrs. Forney's father died in 1856 and her mother in 1915.

In 1874 Capt. Forney was elected state senator from the 22nd district, composed of Howard, Sevier, Little River and Polk counties, and served one term. He was regarded by the citizens of Hope as one of its representative and substantial men, being held in high esteem by those who knew him. He was a large land owner having several farms in this and adjoining counties. He was quite active as a representative and also active as a politician, being a strong adherent to the Democratic party. He was a Mason and a Confederate soldier. He was first lieutenant of Capt. Bennett's company, which was the bodyguard to Gen. McCollough. He served east of the Mississippi for a while, but at reorganization of the army he came west and while in the service on this side, participated in the battle of Pea Ridge and numerous skirmishes.

Capt. Forney died April 29, 1890 at his home in Hope, of paralysis, and is buried in Cave Hill cemetery. Mrs. C. A. Forney was a member of the Cumberland church of Hope. She with several ladies of Hope, organized the first chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. C. A. Bridwell and B. P. Haynes were invited to be present to assist. The final meeting was held in the church building on Second avenue, and when it came to naming it Capt. Bridwell suggested his Captain, when the war broke out who afterward became Major General Patrick Cleburne. Mrs. Forney was married a second time and is now the wife of Gen. Jas. F. Smith. Gen. Smith has been, for three terms, Major General of the Arkansas Division of the United Confederate Veterans, the last time, during the reunion at Little Rock. Gen. Smith and wife now reside in Little Rock.

Among the first settlers of Hope, was S. W. Brundidge, more familiarly known to the early one as "Sam." He was a contractor and builder. He has to his credit the building of the earliest business part of town and many residences scattered over the early limits of the then corporation. Up to the time of death he had built nearly every brick building in Hope, some forty or more, besides many residences. One of his main men, both in making brick, as well as laying them, Os Chambers, who is still a citizen of Hope and is now and always has been one of Hope's good and law abiding men.

Sam Brundidge was a native of Mississippi, born in 1851, but was reared and educated in Sevier, White county, Arkansas. He learned the brick trade when a boy and at seventeen years of age, was permitted to be his own man and he started to make his way in the business world. He worked in the store at Searcy, of B. Dean, for some six or eight years, and when twenty-six years old, he began contracting in the trade he had learned as a boy.

In March 1877 he moved to Hope, then a small town four years old. In time his reputation as a builder spread to other towns, and he built brick buildings other places, one of the largest was at Gordon, for a St. Louis company. He accumulated a good property in farm lands and town buildings. He was married in 1878 to Miss Mollie Peebles, of White county, and there were born to them six children: Jarrett, Peebles, Stephens, Fattie, Richard and Minnie and Lois. Of these Stephen and Fattie are deceased. Richard, Peebles and Lois are married and Minnie is a teacher. Peebles lives in Hope engaged in the cotton business.

Mr. Sam Brundidge was a brother of Ex-Congressman Stephens Brundidge of Searcy, who will very likely be a candidate for the United States Senate, to fill the place made by the death of Senator Clarke.

Sam Brundidge's parents were natives of Alabama, who removed first to Mississippi in 1849, then to Arkansas in 1857. His father was also a builder and lived to be over eighty years old and his mother lived to good old age.

Sam Brundidge organized and built the first brick yard in Hope and manufactured his own brick for the building he erected and sold to persons and buildings in Hope built by him is the present church building of the Presbyterian church, and just opposite across East Second avenue he built himself a beautiful home. This home is now owned and occupied by Mr. Jagerfeld. Mr. Brundidge was a public spirited citizen and aided in every way the building up of his town and was interested in many of the enterprises financially and was always a liberal contributor to whatever would aid in building the town. During a revival meeting held in Hope by Major Cole, he joined the Presbyterian church. His wife was a member of the Methodist church.

This picture in front of a country store in Hope dates back to about 1902. Two well known local men are shown. At the left is C. F. Erwin, the foreman today for the Bruner-Ivory Handle company; and at the right is Charley Richards, one of the early managers of the municipal water & light plant, now deceased.

Mrs. Brundidge died on the last day of March 1895. Some time after Mr. Brundidge was married to Miss Sue Yates, who died within a year of her marriage. He lived till Sunday, the day after the great Galveston storm, September 9, 1901.

He and his wife and two children were buried in Cave Hill cemetery, Hope. The death of Sam Brundidge left a blank in the affairs of Hope, which was not filled for many years, and he left also in the hearts of all who knew him a warm and very pleasant memory which will linger while those friends live.

Chapter 11

Few of the First Things in Hope

I have been preparing a history of the Christian church at Hope and am waiting on a committee appointed by the church to get up some data, and so I gave some biography last week, and this week here are some of the first things that came to our beautiful little city.

1st The Cairo and Fulton Railroad was the first to come. It was incorporated February 5, 1853. The incorporators were Edward Cross, Henry K. Hardy, John R. Hampton, H. P. Poindexter, William E. Davidson, W. C.

Burnes, B. C. Totten, John Mitchell, A. S. Huey, James M. Crenan, William E. Ashley, D. J. Chapman and Thomas J. Blackmore.

Roswell Beebe, president; Daniel Ringo, vice-president; Wm. B. Wait, treasurer; B. C. Harley, secretary; and Jas. S. Williams, chief engineer, were the first officers.

2nd, the first citizen of Hope was Col. Gus Knobel. He was one of the engineers of the railroad and came here with it. He was born on the River Rhine, Germany, Nov. 1842, the child of an English father and a German mother. Col. Knobel came to America in 1859 and went to St. Louis, Mo., and kept books for a commission house.

3rd, The first church in Hope was the Presbyterian. It was organized January 1, 1860, about three miles north of Hope, and moved to the town in February, 1874.

4th, The first preacher in Hope was Rev. M. J. Wallace. He preached his first sermon in the old frame depot building which was moved further East and is now used as a freight depot.

5th, The first map of Hope was ordered by James M. Loughborough and made by the chief engineer of the Cairo and Fulton Railroad Co., Morley. This map comprised about twenty blocks, most of them north of the depot.

6th, The first marriage in Hope was that of Col. Gus Knobel to Miss Mary Winn. She was the daughter of Mr. Bob Winn, who moved to Hope from the town of Washington.

7th, The first child to be born in Hope was the daughter of Green Fair, who was one of the organizers of the Methodist church. To establish the fact the first birth, this child was named Hope Fair.

8th, The first newspaper to be published was the Star of Hope. Col. Hobson, a noted Calvary leader in the Civil War, Colonel of "the 3rd Ark. Calvary" was the editor. He came to Hope from Camden, Ark., with Sam Bracy the druggist.

9th, The first doctor was Dr. Abner Gaines. He did not live long after coming to Hope. His widow, with her sister, Mrs. Rainey lived in a dwelling which stood where the Campbell Boarding House is now. They moved to Little Rock years later.

10th, The first lawyer was J. E. Borden. He occupied an office located on the lot now occupied by the Town Building and in which is the Mayor's office. He remained in Hope only a few years after it was located.

11th, The first hotel was built on the block now known as the Band Park, or Court House Square. It was built at the southeast corner of that block, a large, two story frame and owned by Bob Winn, who was the first hotel keeper. A man by the name of Col. Gaines who seemed to be a gentleman of leisure boarded there and in a quarrel with Winn shot and killed him.

12th, The first negro to become a citizen of Hope was H. C. Yerger, the principal of our negro school. Henry was ten years old when he came from Spring Hill, and his first job was washing bottles in a saloon of Tom Canado, at first located on front street and afterward in the building now occupied by M. A. Holt & Co. as a general merchandise store. It is my intention, at some future time to give a personal history of H. C. Yerger.

13th, The first school was a private or subscription school. It was taught by a Mr. Willis a Baptist preacher. He bought the lot now owned by Mr. Mann on South Hazel street. He built a large two-story frame, with four rooms in the north end for a dwelling and two long rooms in the south end for the school. He taught this school for one or two years and then rented the property to C. A. Bridwell, who with Miss Mollie Malone, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Wallis conducted the school, of which you will see something at our coming Fair.

14th, The first ice-house was on the Iron Mountain right of way just south of the main track on the west side of Elm street, about one hundred feet north of the Barlow Hotel. It was two stories, the ice being in the bottom and the office on top. It belonged to and was conducted by the owner A. P. Dyke. The ice was shipped from the Northern lakes and Hope people were glad to get it.

15th, The first Fire Insurance agency in Hope was owned by the Lowry Brothers, Abner, John and James, who were lawyers. The office was a frame cottage located about where the sample room of the Barlow Hotel is now. 16th, The first brick building erected in Hope was a one story large room occupied now by the Hope Hardware Company. It was built by Rose, Hicks and Thompson, who came from Magnolia, Ark., and opened a large general merchandise store. The second story to this building was built at a time it has been occupied by the present owners. The two-story brick building now forming a part of the Barlow Hotel was built by Barran & Brumell and finished just after the one described above, so both might be said to be the first. One of our citizens, who has moved lately to Little Rock, worked on both of these buildings. Mr. Paris McClanahan.

17th, The first Photographer owned and had his business building in the southeast corner of the block belonging to Water & Light Plant, just west of the Park Hotel. It was a small frame building, one story. The owner's name was Summers, and he and wife came from Magnolia, Ark. His wife owned what is known as the Cottage Hotel and conducted a good boarding and rooming house there many years. Mr. Summers died here and some years later his widow moved to Texarkana, Ark.

18th, The first manufacturing plant was the Brick Yard of Sam Brundidge, located just north of the Cotton Gin now owned and operated by Gordon Cook, east of the Hope Lumber Company's plant. Brick to supply the demand for building in the town and for sale in other towns were made at these yards, some times as many as a million in one year, which at that day, was a fine turnout.

19th, The first Fair was named, "The Southwest Arkansas Fair Association" was organized with a capital stock of $25,000 and held its first exhibition in the fall of the year 1888. It occupied forty acres of ground now owned and occupied by the L. & A. Ry., and the Frisco Ry. Co., as yards for parking their trains in the south part of the corporation limit. The president of the Fair association was Dr. W. B. Foster and the secretary

No Blubber on Go-Sox

Grambling College, noted for producing football players, has begun to switch emphasis to baseball now that Tommie Agee is established as the heavy hitter of the Chicago White Sox. Heavy hitter may be a misnomer, since Tommie is struggling to maintain his rookie pace of '66 when he led the Sox in batting (.273), home runs and runs batted in (though he's the team's leader in the latter two categories again).

Agee actually entered Grambling on a football scholarship, in the same era as Ernie Ladd (Houston Oilers), Buck Buchanan (KC Chiefs), Roosevelt Taylor (Chicago Bears) and Willie Brown (Denver Broncos), but soon switched his talents to hitting baseballs.

The White Sox may be the most hitless wonders since

When we wrote up today's hand a couple of months ago we explained that South wasn't happy with his six club contract and that six diamonds would have been much better. Then we showed that South took the first trick, played three rounds of spades in order to discard dummy's ten of hearts and then took the diamond finesse. East produced the king and returned a dummy, drew trumps and spread his hand.

At this point we goofed. We said that if East had returned a diamond South would have been unable to make his contract. So many readers have pointed out to us that South could have made the hand by simply cross-ruffing. The only danger would be when South would have to ruff a diamond with the eight of clubs.

Our readers are right. Somehow or other, when the hand was actually played West did hold the nine of clubs and would have been able to overruff and set the contract but with the nine of clubs moved over to the East hand the cross-ruff would operate successfully.

A couple of readers went a step further in their analysis and asked, "How should South play the hand if East happened to let dummy hold the first diamond trick?" The answer to this intriguing question is that we just don't know. The way the cards lie South could make seven by simply playing out the ace of diamonds and cross-ruffing, using the eight of clubs to ruff the first trick. Or he could abandon the eight of clubs and make six by ruffing high in his hand each time.

However, we rather fear that South would have fallen right into the trap. The game was match point duplicate. South might well have played out all his trumps and taken a second diamond finesse. East would have produced the king this second time and South would go down. In any event we are very glad this problem did not come up at the table.

Q—How does alcohol affect people with low blood pressure?
A—Alcohol causes an initial slight rise in blood pressure but the effect lasts only a few minutes. It is followed by a slight fall in blood pressure accompanied by a feeling of relaxation.

Q—What over-the-counter medication can be used for a hangover? A—Another drink seems to be the only thing that helps and that gives only temporary relief.

Q—The old admonition: "Go to bed and sleep it off" is still the best treatment with the exception of the proverbial ounce of prevention.
A—If an alcoholic is to have an abdominal operation, should he be treated for his alcoholism before the operation? Could alcoholism cause inflammation of the intestines?

Q—There would be no need to postpone a needed operation because of chronic alcoholism. Acute intoxication would reduce the need for supplementary anesthesia. Alcohol is absorbed rapidly from the intestinal tract and would not cause inflammation because the concentration of alcohol in the intestines is never high. It is the concentration in the blood that is important.

Can Supplement Board Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— State Charles Matthews of North Little Rock said Wednesday the attorney general's office has told him Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller can use funds from a supplemental emergency fund to finance the operation of the State Cosmetology Board.

Matthews said that because of the preliminary ruling he has asked the attorney general's office for an official opinion.

The board will not be able to operate after July 1 because an amendment adopted by the 1967 General Assembly which says current members of the board must be confirmed by the State Senate before the agency can receive funds.

Matthews said that to the best of his knowledge the governor still has some $98,000 remaining from a $100,000 supplemental emergency fund appropriated by the legislature. Matthews said Rockefeller would lose the funds if they are not used by July 1.

Two Arrested for Car Theft

SILLOAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Two 17-year-old youths from Crestwood Mo., were arrested Wednesday at Lake Francis Park near here. The youths, identified as Thomas W. Breece and Frederick Reed, were wanted in Missouri for car theft.

Benton County Sheriff's officers and State Police made the arrest.

Authorities said the pair wrecked a car on Arkansas 59 at the Illinois River south of here and were on foot.

Rehabilitation for Handicapped

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The handicapped have a right to be rehabilitated, Boyle Best of Dallas, assistant regional commissioner for the Vocational Rehabilitation service said here Wednesday.

Best told members of the Arkansas Chapter of the National Rehabilitation Association "we must now think of rehabilitation for the handicapped."

The featured speaker Thursday will be Paul Howard, assistant commissioner of the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration at Washington.

The conference ends Friday.

Hot Debate Highlights Dodd Hearing

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd acknowledges thanking Lyndon B. Johnson for swelling "my campaign drive" with money the Senate ethics committee says Dodd put to his personal use.

But the white-haired Connecticut Democrat maintained once again Thursday—in the third day of sometimes heated debate on a committee resolution to censure him for financial misconduct—that "testimonial affidavits where I live are not considered campaign affairs."

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., planned to make today what he told the Senate would be the closing argument in defense of his colleague.

But Long later told a reporter he wasn't sure if his statement would "close the debate or reopen it." He hinted once again he might present evidence the ethics panel "deliberately kept out of the record" because it regarded it as irrelevant.

Long said the evidence related to the four former Dodd employees who rifled the senator's files of 4,000 documents and turned them over to columnist Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. Their columns touched off the 14-month ethics committee probe of Dodd that resulted in the censure resolution.

In Thursday's debate, Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., asked Dodd whether he wrote an Aug. 5, 1963, letter to Johnson, then vice president, thanking him for an offer "to come to Connecticut to assist me in my forthcoming campaign."

"Sure I wrote the letter,"

At Town & Country yesterday noon a local group headed by Mrs. Freeda Greenan, a director of the Arkansas Association for Mental Health, made plans to organize a chapter in Hope.

Mrs. Nell Branch was selected to set up an organization committee.

Dayton Riots Destroy Five Businesses

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A spectacular blaze destroyed five adjoining buildings housing businesses and residences early today as a rash of fires and other incidents occurred in Dayton's predominantly Negro West Side.

The fires apparently were the work of arsonists tossing gasoline bombs, authorities said. A number of bombs were confiscated during the night from small bands of Negroes that roamed the streets for the second straight night.

Rock-throwing and window-smashing erupted, although not as heavy as Wednesday night. Police said two Negroes were injured when their car crashed as they were fleeing from police from a break-in at a pawn shop-clothing store.

Police arrested 80 persons Thursday night, charging most with disorderly conduct.

The fires kept firemen rushing from one area to another. About 15 fires were reported around midnight. Firemen said gasoline bombs were used to set a fire at one lumber yard, the Gem City Lumber Co., for the second night.

An estimated 400 persons gathered at the fire that destroyed the five buildings, but 50 policemen kept them under control as firemen fought the blaze. There were no known injuries in that fire.

Cora Banks said she was sitting on the front porch of one of the houses, when she heard something that sounded "like someone trying to break in. There was a sound like a shot."

Then, she said, she saw flames pouring from the roof of the building next door. It quickly spread to her house and the other two-story, frame structures. Smoke billowed into the air.

Iola Reed, 52, was one of the last to get out of the buildings. She carried a bundle of bedding and said, "That's all I got out. I was lucky to get that out."

Police quickly converged on the West Side after the first reports of trouble. The National Guard was called out last September during rioting in the same area.

A city bus was rocked, causing officials to stop all bus service in the West Side late Thursday night because of "potential danger to the public."

There was some looting, police said.

Police said there was no mass forming of rioters, only small groups, mostly youths. Police have been placed on 12-hour shifts.

The National Guard has not been called into Dayton.

Pilkinton Lashes at Rockefeller

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—James H. Pilkinton, last year's unsuccessful Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, said Thursday that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's "era of arrogance" was failing.

Pilkinton, addressing the 977 delegates to Arkansas Girls state at Camp Robinson, said that the two-party system probably would be established by the state by the end of the century, but that the failure of the present Republican administration would slow down the movement.

Pilkinton said that 1966 will be "remembered as the year of the big dollar" where wealth computerized the public and when public relations rather than qualifications gained public office.

He said Rockefeller had called his administration an "era of excellence" but "based on what has gone on so far, it might be more appropriately termed an 'era of arrogance.'"

Pilkinton, sounding like a future gubernatorial candidate, offered an eight-point "program

Kosygin, Crew Likely to Unleash Attacks on U.S. Role in Mideast

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin are expected to discuss the Vietnamese war and peace possibilities as well as the Middle East crisis if they talk during Kosygin's United Nations trip.

U.S. officials said it was inconceivable the two could get together without touching on several issues, particularly the Vietnamese conflict.

The White House said Thursday the President "would, of course, be glad to see" the Soviet premier if Kosygin wants to see the President.

But diplomats and American officials consider at least one talk between the two to be a certainty—unless Kosygin's conduct at an expected U.N. General Assembly session called for by Moscow is so violent against Israel and the United States that the resulting atmosphere would make a top-level talk impossible.

American diplomats who know Kosygin, however, say he is not likely to go to such extremes. He is regarded as tough but practical—concerned with concrete results.

Former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev attended a General Assembly session in 1960 and waged a bitter campaign against the United States, pounding the desk with his shoe. There was no talk with President Dwight D. Eisenhower that time.

Kosygin's trip to the United Nations is regarded here as a dramatic gesture to convince the Arab states the Soviet Union is going all the way in its support for them and its opposition to Israeli conquests in last week's war.

U.S. officials expect angry attacks on the U.S. role in the Middle East as Kosygin and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko seek to consolidate Soviet influence in the Arab world and turn Arab sentiment into bitter anti-Americanism. But they expect Kosygin will try to keep the damage to direct U.S.-Soviet relations limited.

Outpost Holds Off 500 Red Guerrillas

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — An isolated South Vietnamese outpost battled a two-hour attack before dawn today by 500 guerrillas who broke under the pounding of air strikes.

On the bloodied field at dawn the South Vietnamese found 36 Communist dead and 30 weapons. In addition, the defenders took six prisoners from among the guerrillas who spearheaded into the position in the early assault.

The attack took place in coastal Phu Yen Province at a position in the foothills rolling up to the central highlands. The guerrillas were evidently after the adjoining village of Long Tuong, where a team of South Vietnamese pacification workers have recently begun to operate with the villagers.

The black-clad pacification workers stood with a force of headquarters troops from an army unit to defend the village. A South Vietnamese spokesman said flareships and air support quickly arrived over the harried post, and casualties were light among the defenders.

Only scattered ground action was reported today after some stiff fights Thursday in the northern part of the country. In those 95 Communist soldiers and 15 Americans were reported killed and 31 Americans wounded.

Heavy weather over North Vietnam limited American pilots Thursday to raids mainly against supply lines extending south from Hanoi to the 17th Parallel dividing Vietnam. But despite the weather, U.S. pilots flew 136 missions over the North Vietnam and Communist ground fire downed one F105 Thunderchief. It was the 584th U.S. combat plane lost over the north, and the pilot was missing.

The Army's Task Force Oregon announced it had pushed an armored convoy over 60 miles of Highway 1 and returned the main coastal road in that area to nominal government control after two years of domination by the guerrillas. The stretch is between Chu Lai and Duc Pho, in Quang Ngai and Quang Tin Provinces. The road was restored to government control after two weeks of sweeping the area.

Despite the announcement, most of Highway 1 from the demilitarized zone to Saigon is still subject to Viet Cong control or taxation or both.

The bulk of the military action continued to be in the sensitive five provinces making up the 1st Corps area below the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Command reported that in the preceding 24 hours U.S. Marines and Task Force Oregon soldiers operating in the area had been in a series of actions ranging from pitched battles to jungle skirmishes.

It was in Operation Arizona that U.S. Marines fought a strong Communist force only 20 miles from the big Da Nang base and reported 35 Red soldiers and seven Marines killed and 10 Americans wounded.

Units of the 5th Marine Regiment fought for nearly five hours 25 miles south of Da Nang. The Marines said 15 Communists and eight Americans were killed and 19 Leathernecks were wounded.

Neither the United States nor the Soviet Union is in a particularly happy position with regard to the Middle East.

The United States is committed to guaranteeing the borders of Middle East states. Those borders now have been changed by Israel's victory over the Arabs. Israel is America's only reliable ally in the Middle East. The dilemma is obvious, and the Russians are making what they can of it.

The Russians, however, went overboard before the war to show support for the Arabs. The sequence of events indicated the Russians even helped steam up the crisis, perhaps not expecting it to reach the stage of war. The Arabs were thoroughly trounced and Moscow was embarrassed. A billion-dollar Soviet investment in Arab arms went down the drain. Moreover, when the chips were down and the Arabs were crying for help, the Soviet Union gave them only verbal support. The Arabs have made it plain they felt let down.

In the present circumstances, given the opposing positions of Washington and Moscow on what should happen now in the Middle East, it seems unlikely that a U.N. Assembly session could produce anything more than some sort of consensus and a resolution which the assembly will be powerless to enforce.

The Russians would have accomplished little by their show of support for the Arabs in such a meeting, since many Arabs already eye them with a suspicion born of disillusionment.

But from the Soviet point of view, an assembly session which brought world leaders together might bear other fruit. There might even be an opportunity for some horse-trading. Even if there was not, the Russians could learn more exactly where the Americans stand and vice versa. That in itself could be measure of insurance against a new showdown.

Swimming lessons will start at the Fair Park pool Monday, June 19 and will run two weeks Mondays through Friday. . . . Intermediate and advanced lessons will be held from 9 to 10 a.m. and beginners lessons from 10 a.m. to 11 . . . admission to the pool is 25 cents a day.

Arkansas Firm to Be Sold

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Air products and chemicals Inc., of Allentown, and Adkins Phelps Co., North Little Rock, announced Thursday in agreement in principal for Air Products to acquire the assets and business of Adkins-Phelps.

Under the proposed transaction, each Adkins-Phelps stockholder would receive 10 shares of Air Products common stock for each 21 shares of Adkins-Phelps common. It must be approved by stockholders of both firms.

Air Products and chemicals, Inc., is engaged primarily in the production and sale of industrial gases and cryogenic equipment while Adkins-Phelps chief business is the wholesale distribution of pesticides and seeds.

Russia Seeks to Save Face Following Costly Defeat of Arab World

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

There is no good reason why both President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin shouldn't welcome the face-to-face meeting that Kosygin's trip to the United Nations may produce.

Both leaders are keenly aware of the possible consequences of miscalculation in one capital or the other.

The United States and the Soviet Union share the responsibility of enormous nuclear might. As history's two most powerful nations, they share also the responsibility for shielding the world from disaster. No matter how cautious their leaders might be, situations involving both of them invite confrontations, and confrontations are dangerous.

MIDDLE EAST

An Associated Press survey shows congressional members overwhelmingly believe Israel should get assurances of national security and access to the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal before withdrawing from Arab territory.

A General Assembly session appears certain to start Saturday, with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin heading the Soviet drive to seek an Israeli withdrawal.

The U.N. meeting can produce a conference between President Johnson and Premier Kosygin. Both should welcome it.

Algerian President Houari Boumedienne spearheads moves to regroup the Arabs against Israel.

VIETNAM

President Johnson and Premier Kosygin are expected to discuss the war in Vietnam if they talk during Kosygin's U.N. trip.

The U.S. Marines kill 50 Communist troops in two clashes near Da Nang. Thirteen Leathernecks are lost.

Mariner 5

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's Mariner 5 spacecraft, which mistook earth for the star Canopus Wednesday, has corrected that slight tactical error and is rushing on course toward Venus.

The spacecraft, with solar panels and antennas, successfully locked on to the guiding star after initially picking up sunlight reflected from the earth's surface. Scientists said Thursday they ordered the craft to break its lock and continue searching for Canopus and it responded.

Mariner 5, racing along it about 7,000 miles an hour, is to pass within 2,000 miles of Venus Oct. 19 and send high-frequency radio signals through the planet's dense cloud cover to study radiation and atmosphere.

The craft may arrive at its destination at about the same time as Russia's bigger Venus probe craft.

Emergency UN Meet Saturday

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — An emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly appears certain to start Saturday with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin heading a Soviet drive to force an Israeli withdrawal from Arab territory and President Johnson possibly attending later in the session.

Other government chiefs seemed certain to follow Kosygin to the session. Johnson was expected in Washington to attend if U.S. interests seemed to require his presence.

Amid speculation that Kosygin's first visit to the United States would also produce his first meeting with Johnson and a summit discussion on Vietnam, White House press officer George Christian said Thursday that the President "would, of course, be glad to see" the Soviet premier if Kosygin wants to see Johnson.

Secretary-General U Thant, polling the 122 U.N. members on the Soviet request for the assembly session, Thursday night needed only one more favorable reply to make the majority of 62 that would oblige him to call it with 24 hours.

U.N. sources said that if the clinching reply was on his desk when his office opened at 9 a.m. EDT, he would convene the first meeting for 9 or 9:30 a.m. Saturday, trying not to make it too early in the morning for the delegates.

When an aide closed the office for the night at 11 p.m., 61 countries, including France, had concurred in the Soviet bid for the emergency session. Only one, the United States, disapproved, while Britain and Iceland said they would concur if the majority did.

At the opening meeting, the assembly is expected to re-elect Afghan Ambassador Abdul Rahman Pazhwak as president and deal with other preliminaries.

The expectation is that Kosygin will open the debate Monday with a demand for the immediate withdrawal of Israeli forces from the areas of Egypt, Jordan and Syria they occupied in the war last week.

Kosygin, Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and 48 aides left Moscow by special plane today for New York. They were to stop in Paris for the Soviet premier to confer on the Middle East crisis with President Charles de Gaulle, then fly on to New York.

There was no indication yet whether De Gaulle would attend the assembly meeting. He and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson are scheduled to meet in Paris Monday.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, informing Thant of the U.S. refusal to concur in the Soviet request for the assembly session, said his government felt the Security Council rather than the assembly should continue to carry the load of peace-seeking in the Middle East.

FBI Seeks Oklahoma Bank Robbers

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — The FBI is searching today for a Shawnee, Okla., jail escapee and an Oklahoma woman who were charged Wednesday in connection with the $2,500 robbery of the Vian State Bank Monday.

The two also are suspects in the April 20 holdup of the First State Bank of Hulbert, Okla., in which $10,000 was taken. Lee O. Teague, special agent in charge of the FBI's Oklahoma City office, said.

Teague identified the pair as Gary Wendell Fryar, 27, and Kerma Sue Walters, 34.

Fryar, an Oklahoma City native, escaped several weeks ago from the Pottawatomie County jail, where he was held on local charges.

Teague noted similarity between the Vian and Hulbert holdups, said the pair charged may be part of a gang which has also struck banks in Arkansas.

Who Will Pay Christmas Bills?

The federal government has thousands of people all over the land whose job it is to figure out how to get the taxpayers to turn over more money to the government. . . .painlessly. One newcomer to the scene has a plan that he says won't cost the taxpayers any more than they are presently and "would give every taxpayer a Christmas bonus."

Sounds like the government might be giving the bonus, but you and I know better than that. Under the plan the taxpayer would be giving Uncle Sam his money ahead of time for 11 months in the year and at Christmas time the taxpayer would not have to pay taxes. This is a Christmas bonus? Stan Jennings, who thought up the idea, is a Bethesda, Md. man. He is promotion art director of the National Geographic Society. Some 12 years ago he did features for the Washington Evening Star and worked for U.S. News and World Report. During this time he gained some familiarity with federal budgets.

Here's how it would work. Taxpayers would pay income taxes at an accelerated rate so that they would have paid in the first 11 months of the year what they would otherwise be required to pay in 12. With no taxes to pay in December, Jennings says, the wage earners would have an additional $4 billion to spend or to save at Christmas time. Since the government would be collecting its money earlier, it would make an estimated $122 million in interest savings.

Mr. Jennings' idea is not as crazy as most since it doesn't call for an increase. But we know the spenders in Washington well enough to realize that it would not be long until they would be telling the taxpayers, "You have gotten a free ride in December for a long time. Due to the emergency of things during these trying times we think it is in the best interest of the nation that all persons pay their taxes in December as well as the other 11 months." The government could jolly well increase its take by about $4.5 billion with this "painless" approach.

There's no way to make tax-paying easy, so let's accept that fact and talk economy. That's the taxpayers' only solution.—Athens (Tex.) Daily Review

Any Summer Jobs?

The perennial problem for most youngsters in the 16-21 age bracket is almost on us—the search for summer employment. For some of those who don't find jobs it will be financially impossible for them to continue in school when September grinds around, and for the others, frustration, as bad or worse than any economic liability, will set in. It is agonizing to want to be self-sufficient and not be presented with the opportunity.

There are many excuses for not hiring youngsters over the summer, but few real reasons. And more and more employers are finding that one important plus outweighs any combination of negative factors: a summer worker can step into the organization immediately after graduation with few or no transitional problems. So before you complain about teen-agers and college students loitering around town and carousing at night this summer, remember that you may have put them there.—Greenville (Miss.)
